

Written Assignments

This document is an optional place for you to document your written assignments and reflections as you submit them on the course platform.

We encourage you to write your Personal Learning Assignments (PLAs), Action Learning Assignments (ALA), and any other written thoughts, reflections, and ideas here so that you can edit them without the risk of losing any work before pressing that submit button on the course platform. This is also a helpful tool to make you're your word count is accurate before submitting word-counted assignments.

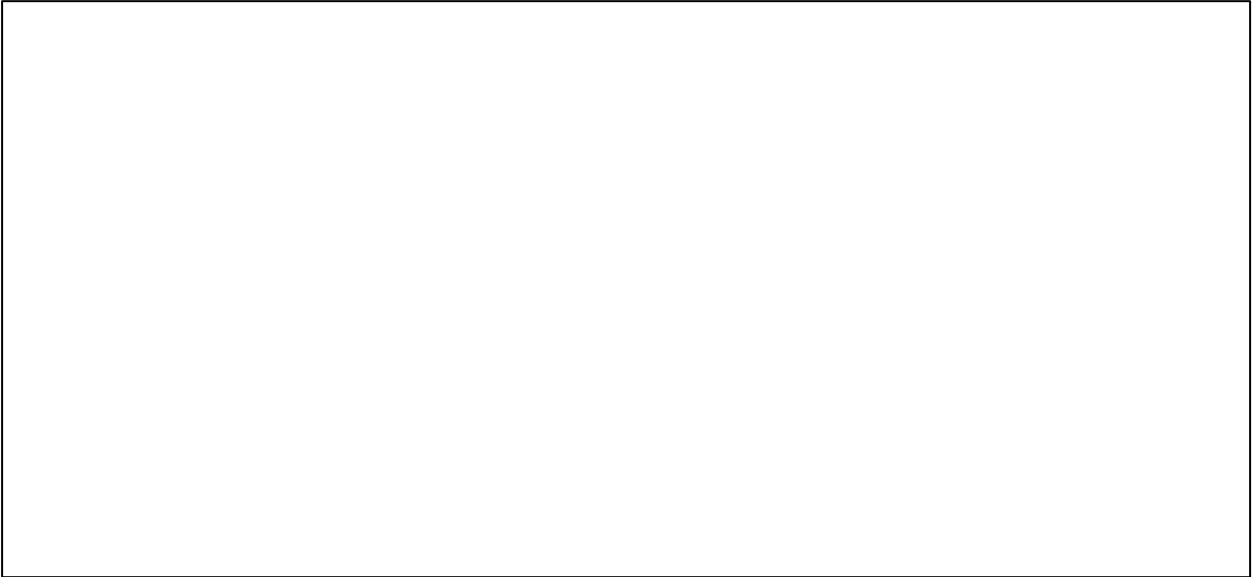

This is meant as a useful resource for you to keep track of your writing and reflections along the way. Some students use it to aid them in writing their Mid-Term and Final Project Assignments later on as well.

We hope that by the end of this course, this serve as a helpful document of your hard work and learning!
